HIT IT IN THE BUD.

First Appearance of Dandruff a Forerunner of Future Baldness.

That such is the case has been conclusively proven by scientific research. Prof. Unna, the noted European skin specialist, declares that dandruff is the burrowed-up cuticle of the scalp, caused by parasites destroying the vitality in the hair bulb. The hair becomes lifeless, and, in time, falls out. This can be prevented.

Newbro's Herpicide kills this dandruff germ, and restores the hair to its natural softness and abundancy.

Herpicide is now used by thousands of people—all satisfied that it is the most wonderful hair preparation on the market to-day.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

AULD LANG SYNE.

Picking up this sleety day an anniversary number of the Alexandria Gazette, I was carried back many, many years, when newspapers were not so voluminous as at the present day and when each mail brought to my father's house the Alexandria Gazette, the National Intelligencer, the Richmond Whig, the Genius of Liberty, the Spirit of the Times, and others, I observed that all present, whether bishop, judge, colonel or private, each made for the Gazette and first sought the column to show "The age and body of the times," which heading I am sorry to see eliminated.

I became acquainted with Alexandria when I entered the Episcopal High School in 1839, taking the stage in Aldie, driven by the "King of Whips," Bill Whaley (Bill was the eldest of a good many boys, all drivers, John, Bush, Corbin and others). We soon passed old man Whaley's; then Cub Run, Chantilly, old man Ayer's—go in and he will tell you "all about it." Did you ever see a gobbler fattened on chestnuts and cooked a beautiful brown all over? Then you have dined at the old gentleman's, the cleanest house I ever saw in all my life. Then uncle Charley Stewarts; then by Dr. Jones, who brought me through a bad illness when a pupil at "Ossian Hall" (Mrs. Brent's). Then Fairfax C. H., and there was Moore, Powell, Thomas, Gunnell, Prichett, Nelson, Conrad and others. Passing on we came to Uncle Billy Goodens, now in all these 1906 years was there ever such an unique character as this old man!

It is said he made his fortune with pigeons. They swarmed about the wagons bearing grain to the city from all the country west, extending even to the Ohio; there were few railroads then but much wheat and corn. A fellow told me he counted one night fifty w gons stopping with the old man, but I think this a slight exaggeration. It was said that when the atmosphere was favorable Uncle Billy c ould hear the steamboat whistle from the Potomac, yet had never seen a boat nor a car in his life. He always had "just a leetle drap" that he had been saving for you of the old Cornwallis peach, but, I am sure I have tasted some there not quite so old. Going on we soon passed Tennyson, the famous game chicken man, then Annandale postoffice and old Englishman Scotts. (A year or two before, when a pupil at "Ossian Hall," in passing this place on our march to service at Lebanon Chapel, we observed a number of chains hung to a chimney of his house, supplemented by two immense man traps he had brought from England with him. He said: "You know we had a terrible electric storm last evening and when I saw the cloud I had a premonition my house would be struck, so I rigged up that conductor and it saved the house. The bolt knocked out the gable, as you see, and gave old Hessie, who was milking the cow, a bad upset, but that was all.") Next, Aspen Hill, and here about that time I saw a beautiful field of barley, the only crop of barley I ever saw until I went to Oregon. Why these people dont try barley I can't understand; they can't raise wheat. And now, we pass Bailey's toll gate. (A few years later as we approached this place, riding on the box with Bill Whaley, he handed me the reins and said, "Drive piece," and began to rummage about his mail sacks in the boot. After getting little away he said, "When I was passing here the other day, the old man was at the woodpile picking up chips, with his back to me; he had on a pair of tight nankeen trousers. I had just put on this cracker, and if I was to be shot for it, I could't have helped it. I took him on the exact spot I put whip to the horses and got down as low as I could, but the rocks did fly.) Next Lebanon, and soon in Alexandria. Passing old man Catts, standing in his door, we entered King street at the Virginia hotel. King street was not paved with vitrified brick then. We pass Philip Hooff, Gregg, Joseph Eaches, Harrison Bradley, Muir, Dr. Powell, Gotleib Appich, on the north side. There is a distinguished looking man on the other side, walking to and fro in front of Wm. Morgan's shop. Why, it is the old man himself! and no man in all the land ever sent out better boots. We all wore boots in those days. Looking north you may see Jim Chatham, lolling back by his stable door, waiting for a sucker. I forgot who had the Marshall House at this time; then some drygoods men, Hough, C. C. Berry, but I was not much interested in this section, until I struck David Appich, who kept good cakes and had very pretty children, especially the girls. Atwell, the tailor, was somewhere along here, and, around the corner north was the genial Henry Simpson with his shoes, and at the next corner the City Hotel—George P. Wise, Frank Hall assistant, and across Cameron Jimmy English, who always gave you fine oysters, and sometimes a woodcock, for he was a good shot those days. I forget the name of the old gentleman who kept the museum in the old market with his two bald eagles. Returning to King street you found at the southeast corner Creighton and McNair, and then Barton, W. W. Adam, Evans, and Howell, and Morao, and Brown, and on the north side Bell Entwisle, and Miller, one of the largest importers of china in this country and one of the only two where India china could be found, the other in Philadelphia; and around the corner was Christian Schafer, who also kept good cakes and parrots and had pretty children; at the corner old man Shaw with his good tobacco, and going down hill toward the river you passed James P. Smith with his handsome china, and the atheletic Kell. And now we reach a section I knew little about, for they kept nothing for small boys—the Smoots, the Fowles, and Casenoves.

I can't locate Phiness Janney's place of business. Who ever never drank Janney's madeira and port don't know what it is. I think it was at my father's house, but I won't swear to it. Judge Hay, President Monroe's son-in-law, was offered a choice vintage of madeira, a present to my father. The judge asked where it came from and ordered a supply of "Broad Brim." Mr. Janney replied that "Broad Brim" was only drank in Broad Brim's house. We will never see such wine again; the vines all died when he did.

I have witnessed many grand p geants in these electric days, but none abides with me as our Tippecanoe Celebration of 1840. The old town turned herself inside out, every latch string on the outside and the doors wide open. I knew one boy that eat six dinners that day, but I wont give his name.

After a long absence, I ran down from Washington recently to take a look at the old town, taking with me a friend, lately from abroad. We found no hotel comparable to the house in which Mr. James Green installed Al. Newton, fifty years ago; by the way, did ever so small a body hold so big a man as Mr. Green? Ten such men would have made Alexandria as big as New York. My friend wished to see the water front, and we went down King street and when we reached the dock I turned abruptly and said "Come,' for I did not want him to see what I saw.

A TRAINED NURSE

After Years of Experience, Advises Women in Regard to Their Health.

Mrs. Martha Pohlman of 55 Chester Avenue, Newark, N. J., who is a graduate Nurse from the Blockley Training School, at Philadelphia, and for six years Chief Clinic Nurse at the Philadelphia Hospital, writes the letter printed below. She has the advantage of personal experience, besides her professional education, and what she has to say may be absolutely relied upon.

Many other women are afflicted as she was. They can regain health in the same way. It is prudent to heed such advice from such a source.

Mrs. Pohlman writes:

"I am firmly persuaded, after eight years of experience with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, that it is the safest and best medicine for any suffering woman to use."

"Immediately after my marriage I found that my health began to fail me. I became weak and pale, with severe bearing-down pains, fearful backaches and frequent dizzy spells. The doctors prescribed for me, yet I did not improve. I would bloat after eating, and frequently become nauseated. I had pains down through my limbs so I could hardly walk. It was as bad a case of female trouble as I have ever known. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, however, cured me within four months. Since that time I have had occasion to recommend it to a number of patients suffering from all forms of female difficulties, and I find that while it is considered unprofessional to recommend a patent medicine, I can honestly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for I have found that it cures female ills, where all other medicine fails. It is a grand medicine for sick women."

Money cannot buy such testimony as this—merit alone can produce such results, and the ablest specialists now agree that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the most universally successful remedy for all female diseases known to medicine.

When women are troubled with irregular, suppressed or painful periods, weakness, displacement or ulceration of the female organs, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation, backache, bloating (or flatulence), general debility, indigestion, and nervous prostration, or are beset with such symptoms as dizziness, faintness, lassitude, excitability, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, "all-gone" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feelings, blues and hopelessness, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles.

No other female medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement.

The needless suffering of women from diseases peculiar to their sex is terrible to see. The money which they pay to doctors who do not help them is an enormous waste. The pain is cured and the money is saved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

It is well for women who are ill to write Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. The present Mrs. Pinkham is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, her assistant for many years before her decease, and for twenty-five years since her advice has been freely given to sick women. In her great experience, which covers many years, she has probably had to deal with dozens of cases just like yours. Her advice is strictly confidential.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Succeeds Where Others Fail.

Dog Followed Mistress.

The story of a dog's affection for its little mistress, from whom it would not be separated even by death, was brought to New York by the steamship Columbia, which arrived yesterday from Glasgow. The Columbia had a hard experience with the wintry gales which swept the Atlantic during her en ire voyage, and the tossing and pitching of the ship contributed largely to the pathetic tragedy of the sea. Among the passengers was Andrew Macdonald, who was bringing his four-year-old daughter Marie to America for the benefit of the sea voyage. The little girl's two collies, Dick and Jack, accompanied them, and until she was taken sick Mary spent all her waking hours with her pets. When the storm became violent the child became seriously seasick, and last Wednesday she died. The dogs missed their little mistress and whined continually until they were taken to the stateroom, where the body was being prepared for burial, and during the reading of the funeral services the collies tugged at the leashes which held them. As the child's body was lifted to the rail and slid overboard, one of the dogs broke away from the man who held him and leaped into the sea just as the body of its mistress disappeared beneath the waves. In another instant the dog had disappeared from view.

Alexandria Gazette
SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS
AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

WEDNESDAY EVENING, MAR. 21, 1906.

DEATH has been in the wake of the weather of the past few days. Scores of lives have been lost and millions of dollars damage done by the storm which has raged over almost the entire country, from the Rocky Mountains to the Atlantic coast. Vessels have been wrecked and lives lost off several New England points. Calamities have also occurred on land. In the Silverton mining district of Colorado sixteen men have been crushed to death or suffocated by snowslides, and property worth a million dollars has been destroyed. Huge snow drifts have entirely tied up railroad traffic in some parts of Illinois, many trains have been buried in snow drifts since Sunday. Some have been moved with the aid of from four to seven locomotives. In Wyoming snow is piled up on the railroad tracks to the depth of seven feet, the fall on the road being twenty-four inches. Big losses of sheep on the ranches are feared. With the higher temperature the storm took the form of rains and floods in the South, where much damage is reported. Frigid weather has prevailed in Alexandria and vicinity, but no lives have been lost nor has any serious damage resulted.

THE ADMINISTRATION is striving diligently to wash the blood from the hands of those engaged in the recent massacre of natives—men, women and children—in the Philippines. Governor General Ide, of Manila, is the last apologist for this wanton shedding of blood. He would have the world believe that the victims were outlaws, and should have been treated as mad dogs or nests of rattlesnakes. It nevertheless seems strange to people in the Occident that it was necessary to slaughter women and children on the ground that they were outlaws. Why they could not have been secured and placed in institutions where they would have been compelled to behave themselves has not been satisfactorily answered. While the excitement which brought about the short-lived Spanish-American war was at its height sensational papers in this country contained pictures of pyramids of human bones said to have been found in Cuba which, it was alleged, were remains of Cubans who had fallen victims to Weylerism. Similar ones are now being flashed from the Philippines equally as hideous.

ADVICES from Richmond are to the effect that although the State law requires that ministers performing the marriage ceremony make prompt returns of licenses, the auditor has no reports of marriages from 23 counties and several cities, showing that the law is absolutely disregarded, or that the clerks are not doing their duty. So far as records show that was not a single marriage in Alexandria, Roanoke and Radford for the past year, and the same may be said of the following counties: Bath, Bedford, Buckingham, Dickenson, Franklin, Giles, Goochland, Lee, Lunenburg, Matthews, Montgomery, Northampton, Northumberland, Nottoway, Orange, Prince George, Pulaski, Rappahannock, Roanoke, Russell, Smyth, Tazewell, Warren and Warwick. So long as the laws are on the statute books they should be enforced and the exacting of the full penalty for their violation would have a salutary effect.

MR. CORNELIUS N. BLISS and "Judge" Andrew Hamilton, of New York, by locking horns over campaign contributions, have furnished the latest insurance sensation. Mr. Hamilton declares he paid $75,000 of the New York Life's money to the republican national committee's treasury in 1906. Mr. Bliss, who was treasurer of the committee at that time, denies and says he never knew Hamilton and never heard of him until lately. Hamilton thereupon reiterated the charge, and produced a voucher receipt for $75,000, purporting to be signed by Bliss, as evidence. Bliss, when confronted with the voucher, refused to look at it, declared it never was issued by him, and still denies the pleasure of Hamilton's acquaintance. In the meantime the newspapers have secured photographs of the voucher in question showing Mr. Bliss's signature. This would indicate that the ex-secretary of that strictly moral and highly enlightened grand old republican party will not hesitate to lie when the necessity arises.

THE DEWEY drydock, which was built at Sparrows Point, Md., and is now on its way to the Philippines, became the subject of a laughable debate in the Senate yesterday, developing, among other things, that not a Senator knew where the dock was built that cost the government about $1,250,000. Mr. Lodge with an air of superiority asserted that the drydock Dewey was built at the navy yard at League Island, which is quite near Philadelphia. But Mr. Lodge doesn't know as much as he thinks he does.

WHILE every law abiding citizen will regret the lynching of the negro in Chattanooga on Monday night pending action by the U. S. Supreme Court, yet it but emphasizes the wrongs done and the just indignation engendered by the law's delay. The courts frequently are responsible for much lawlessness.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S "big-stick" policy received another blow in the Senate yesterday, when that body struck out of the fortifications bill every appropriation for seacoast defenses for the Philippines.

TODAY occurs the vernal equinox and spring, according to the almanac, begins. The temperture, however, has not been very balmy today.

From Washington.

Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, March 21.

From Mexico City to New York city in ninety-five hours and fifteen minutes is the plan of Mexican railroad officials, cooperating with officials of certain roads in the United States. Arrangements have been made for the run from Mexico City to St. Louis in fifty-nine hours and thirty minutes, a distance of 1,877 miles, at a speed for the entire trip averaging thirty-two miles. There are to be only nineteen stops at stations, and in one case 245 miles are made without a stop, a remarkable thing, according to Deputy Consul-General Eberhardt, of Mexico City.

Hon. George R. Patterson, member of Congress from the 12th Pennsylvania district, died suddenly this morning at five o'clock of heart trouble, at his residence on Q street. About four o'clock his niece heard a noise in his room, and entering found that Mr. Patterson had fallen from the bed to the floor. He was unconscious. A physician was summoned at once, and stimulants were administered, but without effect. Just before his death, Mr. Patterson regained consciousness, and said to those gathered about, "I am afraid I am going." He leaves a widow and two children, son and daughter. George Robert Patterson was a republican, and had represented his district in Congress the past three sessions. He was born at Lewiston, Mifflin county, Pa., November 9 1863. Since early life he had been engaged in merchantile pursuits, most of the time as a traveling salesman. At the time of his death he was agent for a Minneapolis mill, covering territory in central Pennsylvania. For a number of years he had taken an active part in politics.

Consul Liefeld, of Frieburg, Germany, has reported to the Department of Commerce and Labor the opinions of the members of the Gainsborough workmen's commission, including three liberals and three conservatives, which was sent to Germany to gather impressions of the protective tariff. The consul says: "Mr. Proctor, whom the liberal workmen put on the commission at the head of the poll, and who is a well-educated, thinking man, admitted that the heavy tariff walls in Germany were bad for English trade. George Brown, a boiler maker and a liberal, considers that English manufacturers would have a better chance with their foreign rivals if a ten per cent. duty were placed on foreign manufactured imports. 'I went out a confirmed free trader, but I should fail in my plain duty if I did not point out to my fellow-workmen that a change must be made,' said Mr. Calvers, joiner and liberal. H. Beilby, brass turner, who is a unionist, said: "In Germany there seems to be work for all. We saw no unemployed standing at street corners, as in free-trade England. Protection has made Germany prosperous.'"

In considering the application of the pulp and sulphite workers for a charter, the executive council of the American Federation of Labor today decided to provide for a conference of these workers at Dayton, Ohio, with the paper mill workers when the latter hold their convention there. A representative of the executive council, to be appointed by President Gompers, will be in attendance. The plumbers and gas fitters and steam fitters dispute was being considered when an adjournment was taken to join with 107 presidents and associates from international unions, convened in Washington to consider the attitude of Congress toward labor legislation. The statement in regard to the matter, drafted by the council, was read and approved. At 1 o'clock the council laid its statement before Speaker Cannon; at 2 o'clock before Senator Frye, and at 2:30 o'clock discussed the matter with President Roosevelt.

In case Congress should accept Admiral Dewey's recommendations that the United States construct two 18,000 ton battleships, Chief Constructor Capps and his force of ship designers have plans for a type of ship which, they believe, would run the Deadnought and her kind out of any fighting line. There is a possibility that if the ships are authorized at this session of Congress the Bureau of Construction and Repair would get the ships started as soon as possible and make some effort to keep the details of their plans secret, as was done by the British admiralty with the Dreadnought, at whose battery and interior arrangement foreigners can only guess. Enough is known of Admiral Capps' ideas, however, to convince officers that he has a powerful type of battleship in mind. It is understood that a model of the ship has been made and has not only satisfied the chief constructor but has delighted his assistants. The predominating idea in the Capps model is a powerful primary battery of 12-inch guns, possibly not exceeding eight in number, with a swarm of three-inch rapid fiers and other small calibres to keep off torpedo craft.

A special meeting of the Supreme Court of the United States was being held at the home of Chief Justice Fuller this morning. The utmost secrecy is preserved regarding the session, and it was even denied by officials of the court at the Capitol that there was to be a meeting. It is assumed that the business before the court is the lynching of Ed Johnson, the negro, at Chattanooga. Such a session, held during a recess of the court, is almost without precedent. Last Monday the court adjourned until April 2, and only a matter of the gravest importance could have called the members together before that time. At the conclusion of the special session, the justices left for their several homes without disclosing anything regarding the purposes of the meeting.

During the railway rate debate in the Senate this afternoon, Mr. Bailey, of Texas, who held the floor, relinquished it suddenly, without explanation, and left the chamber. There was a pause. Mr. Tillman was recognized. "The Senator from Texas has just received news of the death of his father," he explained. "That is why he has withdrawn from the debate in this matter."

The Comptroller of the Treasury today handed down a decision in which he allows the State of Virginia $49,743.98 additional as reimbursement of expenses attached to the raising of volunteer troops for service in the war with Spain. The claim originally presented by the State was $80,145.86, but the auditor for the War Department allowed only $11,620.50. The Virginia authorities took an appeal to the Comptroller, who after going over the case, allowed $49,743.98 more.

The President today appointed J. Harvey Furr, to be postmaster at Waynesboro, Va.

The President and members of Congress have received copies of a petition adopted by a recent mass meeting of American citizens on the Isle of Pines, signed by T. B. Anderson as chairman. The document protests against the treaty now pending in the Senate, which would confirm the title to Cuba to the Isle of Pines and demands that a committee be sent to investigate the alleged critical condition of affairs now existing on the isle.

Upon reports to the Interstate Commerce Commission that many shippers in and about New York city have been persistently underbilling and misrepresenting freight shipped by railways from that city and other points in eastern territory, the commission has ordered an investigation. The hearing is set for Friday, March 23, at 10:30 a. m., in the United States courtroom in New York city. It is expected that highly interesting developments will take place, indicating frauds on the part of shippers amounting to forced rebates from published tariff rates.

He is now heavily ironed and locked up in the Towson jail.

Says Morgan's $20,000 Aided Hull's Election.

Des Moines, Iowa, March 21.—That Congressman J. A. T. Hull received $20,000 from J. Pierport Morgan two years ago, to help him carry this district against Judge S. F. Brouty, who was after the nomination, was the charge made last night by George L. Dobson, who opened his campaign for the seat Hull has occupied for the last fourteen years. Dobson explains that the reason that Morgan came to the rescue of Hull was that Hull had voted in the interests of Wall street for years, and that Morgan could not afford to go back on a faithful servant. He also declares that Congressmen Landis, of Indiana, and Cooper, of Wisconsin, could substantiate the truth of the charge if they would. Dobson makes the further charge that Hull was so anxious to get control of the local committee two years ago that he paid one man $1,400; also, that one railway furnished Hull with $7,000. Hull men say that Dobson is sore because his appointment to the Hunchow Consulate did not turn out satisfactorily.

New York Stock Market.

New York, March 21.—The stock market in the first hour continued the gradual upward movement that was going yesterday and the active list made gains to some extent ranging from small fractions to 2¼ per cent. After the early gain there seemed to be renewed selling pressure and prices lost part of the initial advance, causing renewed talk about inside interests not wanting the market to go up at present.

Wife Murder and Suicide.

Bested after an hour's struggle with the husband whom she had saved from prison, Mrs. May Byland, a good-looking young woman, was strangled to death yesterday in her apartments on the third floor of 336 east Fifteenth street, New York. Joseph Byland killed himself a moment later with a pistol. The couple had lived unhappily since their marriage last May. She was twenty-three years old and Joseph was two years her senior. Byland frequently beat his wife, and on Monday she decided to leave him. She went to the house at 9 o'clock yesterday morning and was admitted by Byland. The other residents of the building heard sounds of a struggle, which continued for an hour, and then all was quiet. When the moving van arrived to take away the young woman's furniture, the other persons in the building became suspicious and the door was forced. The flat was in a wild state of disorder, showing evidence of a desperate struggle. Byland lay on the floor near his wife. There were bullet holes in his head and chest. Blue marks on the woman's neck showed where the fingers had gripped her and choked her life out. When the young woman's mother arrived she swooned and fell unconscious beside her daughter's body.

The Supreme Court Acts.

By the action of a mob in Chattanooga in lynching Ed Johnson, a negro, who was condemned to death for criminally assaulting a young woman, for the first time in the history of the United States Supreme Court its mandate was interfered with and rendered void.

After an executive session of the justices it was decided to bring, if possible, the members of the mob before the court for contempt proceedings. As a result the Department of Justice was asked to investigate the case and bring the lynchers before the bar of the Supreme Court. In the absence of Attorney-General Moody, who is in Chicago conducting the prosecution of the beef trust officials, the acting Attorney-General took action and notified the District Attorney at Nashville to make an immediate investigation with a view of carrying out the instructions of the Supreme Court. In addition secret service detectives, it is understood, will be put on the case, and it is not unlikely that some of the members of the mob will be in custody within the next two weeks.

Today's Telegraphic News

Trouble Between Whites and Blacks.

Chattanooga, Tenn., March 21.—For twelve hours five thousand negroes held sway here, waiting for darkness to envelop the city so that work of destruction might be started. They were thwarted by the timely appearance of four companies of militia, four hundred extra deputy sheriffs and 50 reserve policemen. As it was there were a dozen brushes between whites and blacks in which half a dozen persons were injured, while three attempts were made to start fires in different sections of the city. The effective work of the combined fire department, aided by the special officers and soldiers, prevented much destruction and loss of life. Some negroes fired into the coaches and sleepers of a passenger train on the Southern Railway while it was passing through the negro district of the city. No one was killed. There was almost constant shooting at short intervals during the night, and it is believed that it will develop that many persons were injured.

At Eastlake, five miles from the city, a posse of white men called upon a negro, who was on one of the principal streets, to halt. He did not do so and fire was opened upon him. The negro ran, pursued by white men, who fired fifty or more shots at him. He could not be found. Over half a dozen reports of killings from apparently reliable sources were reported to the police during the night, but they have not been verified.

The police fear there will be trouble today during the funeral of Johnson, but the city officers and the militia believe they have the situation well under control, as the negroes seem to lack organization. Orders have been issued by Governor Cox for the Nashville militia to be under arms and should the situation become critical, the soldiers from that city will be sent over on a special train.

The order of the Mayor yesterday closing all the saloons and the instructions to the merchants not to sell arms or ammunition to negroes had a good effect on the situation.

Destructive Conflagration.

Point Pleasant, N. J., March 21.—This town was visited last night by the most destructive conflagration in the history of the place. Fire started at midnight in the rooms of Amanda Polhemus, in the Gottleib department store, at the corner of Bay and Arnold streets. On Arnold street, despite efforts of the firemen, the Gottlieb store, John Kemp's grocery store, the Central House, occupied by railroad employees, Mrs. Ferdinand Wood's residence, the residence of Mrs. Tood, and the candy factory of John Laugg were destroyed. The fire on this street was stopped at a new cottage not yet completed. On Bay street, the fire working south, swept the two millinery stores of Mrs. Henrietta Clayton and Mrs. Susan Chaffee, and a barber shop owned by Wm. Kramer. All the buildings had living apartments and many people are rendered homeless. The Gottlieb family were cut off from the stairway, but were finally rescued by the firemen who carried them down ladders. The loss is variously estimated at from $50,000 to $100,000, partially insured.

Found Guilty of Fraud.

Buffalo, N. Y., March 21.—Roland J. Conover, undertaker, who removed the bodies in the North street cemetery, now the site of the 65th regiment armory, was found guilty of grand larceny last night by a jury in the supreme court. Conover was indicted with John W. Neff, who, as county auditor, approved the former's bills. The testimony in the Conover trial disclosed many gruesome details. Witnesses testified that in one instance bones of infants were arranged into several piles, and that each pile was designated as a body. Each of these "bodies" was paid for at the contract price by Erie county. Witnesses also testified that on one occasion Conover kicked a coffin to pieces, in order to obtain the bones for arrangement into "bodies." The indictment against Neff also charge grand larceny, first degree, in that he entered into a conspiracy with Conover to defraud the county. Conover will be sentenced on Friday.

China's Aims.

Berlin, March 21.—According to the Morgen Post, China is striving to obtain recognition as a great power. The Chinese government has initited negotiations with Germany for the appointment of an Ambassador at Berlin, and has suggested that the German Minister at Pekin be promoted to be an Ambassador. Similar negotiations have been begun with the other powers. China desires to obtain equal recognition with Japan by the outside world. She is also seeking to obtain the consent of the powers to the abolition of the territorial privileges of foreigners residing in China, and demands that foreigners shall no longer be tried in consular courts, but shall be subordinated to Chinese justice. The whole line of policy being pursued by China is distinctly aggressive, rendering the imminence of the "Yellow Peril" evident.

Murder and Suicide.

Boston, March 21.—Battling against disgrace brought on by heavy drinking and dissipation, unable to find employment, and almost penniless, Bernard Myles, 42 years of age, a stationary engineer, crawled quietly into bed with a woman supposed to be his wife at their room at the lodging house at 38 Leverett street, last night, took deliberate aim, sent three bullets crashing through her brain, murdering her, and then committed suicide by shooting himself twice in the right temple. Death must have been almost instantaneous in each case. Both had evidently been drinking heavily, as the stench of liquor pervaded the room, and an empty pint whisky flask was found just under the side of the bed where the dead woman was lying. Myles had been a resident of east Boston many years.

Still Aground.

New York, March 21.—The Norwegian steamer Bodo, bound from Port Antonio, Jamaica, for New York with a cargo of fruit, which went ashore early yesterday morning about 10 miles west of Fire Island light station, is still fast on the sandy bottom. It was stated this morning that no attempt would be made to float the vessel until possibly late this afternoon.

It seems the only rational remedy for Coughs and Colds would be to move the bowels and cure the mucous membrances of the throat and lungs at the same time. Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar does this. It is the Original Laxative Cough Syrup, the best known remedy for Coughs, Colds, Croup, Whooping Cough, etc. Tastes good and harmless. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co., 40 King street.

Statement from the Operators.

New York, March 21.—The anthracite coal operators issued a statement today in which they declare "that the idea that the mine workers union demand only a 10 per cent increase in wages, is a delusion." The statement sets forth that the average increase under the scale demanded, would be almost 30 per cent for outside men, and "would mean a veritable revolution in mining conditions."

The statement says in part:

"It is a mistake to assume that an eight-hour day and a 10 per cent. wage increase represent the sum total of the demands of the anthracite miners. They insist besides on a uniform wage scale for 146 separate and distinct classes of workmen about the mines. The new and uniform scale would place every man on the same basis, increasing the wages of some men as much as 150 per cent. The average increase under the uniform scale would be near 30 per cent. for outside men. The sweeping demand of the mine workers would double the wages of many 'inside' men. While the general average of increase for inside day labor would approximate 22.8 per cent. and most of the men thus employed would receive under the schedule at issue advance of one-fifth to one-quarter in their pay there would be a great many men and boys working at the easier tasks involving less responsibility and less danger, who would have their wages doubled. It is apparent, therefore, that the idea that the mine workers' union demands only a 10 per cent. increase in wages is a delusion."

Harrisburg, Pa., March 21.—Hood McKay, superintendent of the coal mines at Williamstown, and Lykens, Dauphin county, received word today from the General Manager of the Coal Operators to prepare for a strike. It is believed that this warning has been sent out to all of the anthracite districts, so that the representatives of the operators may be prepared for the worst.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 21.—The joint scale committee of the coal miners and operators went into secret session this morning. The scale committee consisting of 32 men, four miners and four operators from each of the four competitive States, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, and Illinois, now has before it the decision of questions which will either mean peace or the greatest upheaval in all history.

Trouble at Sevastopol.

London, March 21.—Advices received in this city today show that the statement sent out last night in regard to a serious mutiny at Sevastopol were exaggerated. The reports indicate that trouble has really occurred as the sequel to the shooting of Lieut. Schmidt, who commanded the sailors in the mutiny last November. Advices received state that 2,000 sailors on the warships in the harbor there hoisted the black flag over their ships. Admiral Chouknin, naval commander, gave orders to bombard the mutinous vessels, but later withdrew this command, upon receiving instructions from St. Petersburg. It is now stated that the reason Lieut. Schmidt was shot instead of hanged, was because no executioner could be found to hang him.

A dispatch to the Reuter Telegram Company, from Odessa says that the pupils in the school there have struck as a protest against the execution of Lieut. Schmidt.

Suicide of Young Man.

Reading, Pa., March 21.—Because the girl with whom he was infatuated refused to marry him, on the ground that she was too young to take up wedded life, Elmer M. Prutzman, aged 20 years, after leaving Miss Mabel Treat at the home of her stepfather and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Miller, 626 Elm street, sent a pistol bullet into his brain, death ensuing instantly, at 11:30 last night. Prutzman's parents are well known residents of Hamburg, at which place the young man lived until three or four years ago, when he came to Reading to learn the machinist trade at the locomotive shops of the Reading Railway Company.

Anxiety for Steamers.

Halifax, N. S., March 21.—The government steamers Minto and Stanley, running between Prince Edward Island and the main land of Nova Scotia, are missing and the wildest rumors are in circulation. Both steamers are long over due, and no word has been received from them. The Minto left Picton at 6 o'clock Tuesday morning, and the Stanley steamed out from Georgetown at the same hour. Soon after sailing a great storm broke over the straits of Northumberland. The run in fine weather takes only four hours. Both steamers carried crews of 25 men each, and had many passengers.

Preparing for Execution.

Mount Holly, N. J., Rufus Johnson and George Small, the negroes who murdered Miss Allinson at Moorestown, N. J., on January 18, are preparing for their execution, which will take place next Saturday morning. Two ministers who are making daily visits to the murderers, and feel satisfied that the men are converted. One of them said today: "Only one of the men killed Miss Allinson, and at the last moment I think they will agree as to whom actually committed the crime. With the last ray of hope gone, the men are fitting themseves for the inevitable."

Strikes.

St. Petersburg, March 21.—As the result of the recent work of labor agitators among the railway employes, a strike in the Caucasus is expected to be declared on March 29.

Paris, March 21.—A general strike has been proclaimed in the Northern mining districts and 80,000 men are affected. Serious disorders have already occurred, and there are indications that the movement will spread to the Loire district.

Fast in Track as Car Sped on.

Philadelphia, March 21.—In an effort to escape being struck by a freight car in the Pennsylvania Railroad yards yesterday, Pasquale Serrone, 25 years old, of No. 207 Taylor avenue, Camden, caught his foot between the tracks. It looked as though he would meet instant death until the foreman, with great presence of mind, threw the switch lever over and the car passed along to another track. Serrone was struck by the front of the car as it turned to the other track, but was only slightly injured.

Calomel to Cure Pear Blight.

Fitzgeral, Ga., March 21.—By boring a small anger hole in the tree, inserting 15 grains of calomel and then plugging up the hole, it has been stated that pear trees have been cured of the blight when they were so badly affected that they were deemed worthless. The remedy was suggested by A. S. Field to G. S. Smiley, who made a test of the unique remedy, with the result that in the following year the trees bore some fruit, and this year have apparently recovered their health and are loaded with bloomes.

A Revolting Crime.

New York, March 21.—The trial today of Robert Spriggs, the negro procurer of white girls, revealed one of the most revolting stories of human degradation ever told in the criminal courts of this city, when the woman, Hattie Warren, whom Spriggs abducted and subjected to incoceivable brutalities, took the stand in Judge Cowings court and told the pitiful story of her life in Spriggs' house at 14 Cornelius street.

The woman is a forlorn creature, with drooping shoulders and a face so marred by lines as to hide any traces of the beauty she is said to have once possessed. She told how she met one of Spriggs's agents in February 1905, and after accepting a drink straightway became unconscious.

Waking the next morning with a splitting headache, the work of knock out drops, she found she had been stripped of her clothing, and in its place was a light wrapper which had been furnished by the negro.

She told the jury of the beatings which she had received at his hands, of the knocking out of two of her teeth. She told also of pleading with Spriggs to give her her liberty and clothing and how he knocked her down.

She told how she escaped from her bondage by prying open a window with an ice hook and making her way out of the house through this opening. The jury was horrified, as was Judge Cowing.

The Schooner Beached.

Norfolk, Va., March 21.—The three masted schooner Raymond T. Maill, Captain Higsbee, lumber laden from Saltilla river, Ga., for Philadelphia, was beached last night near Gull Shoal, life saving station five miles north of Hatteras, N. C. While rounding Cape Lookout in a gale Saturday night the vessel sprang a leak and despite the efforts of the crew the water gradually made headway in the hold. Last night the leak became worse and the water gained so rapidly that Captain Higbee decided to beach his vessel. The crew, seven men in all, were safely landed by life savers.

Urge Dead Mamma to Wake.

Pittsburg, March 21.—Mrs. Oscar Wadstrom, of West Homestead, died suddenly and peculiarly in the Wabash depot here yesterday. She was on her way home to her parents at Norwalk, Ohio, and had her four little children with her. She had been ill, and her husband, leaving her with the children in one part of the depot, went to buy tickets. When he came back the wife was reclinging on a seat, dead. Her little children were pulling at her hands and dress, urging "mamma to wake up."

Rescued from Dory.

Boston, March 21.—Seventy-two hours in an open dory in freezing weather without food or water, after being compelled to desert their water-logged vessel, six men of the crew of the St. John schooner Adeline, bound from St. John for New York, with a cargo of laths were picked up Monday, sixty miles off Fippenies Banks, Maine coast, by the fishing schooner Margaret Dillon, and were landed at the wharf this morning. Their tale of hardship is a harrowing one.

Senator Bailey's Father Dead.

New Orleans, March 21.—J. W. Bailey father of Senator Bailey, died here today. Mr. Bailey was operated upon a few days ago and failed to rally. He was born in New York in 1835, but was educated in the South, and has long been a prominent resident of Crystal Springs, Miss., whence he was brought here.

It is said in Albany that more than $1,000,000 is on hand to defeat race track gambling bill. Senator Cassidy says that no amount of money can defeat the bill.

Mr. Thomas Burroughs, recently appointed postmaster at Alexandria, has qualified and given bond in the sum of $20,000 and will take charge of the office on Monday, April 2. He qualified before U. S. Commissioner R. P. W. Gimett and his bondsmen are Messrs. M. B. Harlow and M. A. Ahern. Mr. Burroughs yesterday evening appointed Mr. F. C. Beattie, of Fairfax county, a son of Capt. Fountain Beattie, as his assistant, who at once qualified before Mr. J. D. Normoyle, notary public, and gave bond in the sum of $10,000—$6,000 to the government and $4,000 to the postmaster. Mr. Beattie, it is understood, had been promised the place in the event that that Mr. J. A. Eggborn and Mr. A. H. Agnew should decline it. Mr. Eggborn, it will be remembered, was a candidate for the position of postmaster. When Mr. Burroughs was appointed to that place he offered to make Mr. Eggborn his assistant, but the latter, after holding the matter under advisement, decided to remain with the Virginia Safe Deposit and Trust Corporation, with which corporation he has been connected for some time. Mr. Agnew also promptly declined the position when it was offered him, so, under promise, it went to Mr. Beattie.

The appointment of Mr. Beattie has caused much adverse criticism, not for any personal reasons, for he is well and favorably known here, but the general opinion is that in a city of 15,000 inhabitants a man could certainly have been found to fill the position of assistant postmaster. It will be remembered that one of the main reasons for the opposition to Mr. Eggborn's appointment as postmaster, was that he had lived in Alexandria but a few years, so the appointment of a non-resident as assistant naturally excites opposition. The Alexandria republicans are very sore over the matter and some of them threaten to make trouble. Mr. Frank Phillips, chairman of the republican city committee, in a conversation with a representative of the Gazette today, said the appointment looked to him as an attempt to drive the few republicans in Alexandria over to the democratic party.

When asked about the matter Postmaster Crupper said today that the appointment of Mr. Beattie was a surprise to him and that he did not know a thing of it till several hours after the appointment had been made.

I. O. O. F.

Last Monday, March 19, was the 68th anniversary of Potomac Lodge, No. 38, I. O. O. F., and the lodge will observe the event at a regular meeting of the lodge on next Friday night, at which time the second degree will be conferred by the degree staff and an interesting programme will be arranged under "good of the order." Odd Fellows' Hall on north Columbus street was built in 1812 for a female free school and was endowed by Mrs Martha Washington. One of the teachers in this school was the widowed mother of Gen. Fitz John Porter. It was then a one-story building. The property was sold to the trustees of Potomac Lodge by Hugh Smith and heirs on November 15, 1841, and at once improved by the erection of the present two-story building. Rev. Father Carne conducted St. John's Academy in the first story for many years. Potomac Lodge was chartered by the Grand Lodge of the District of Columbia on March 19, 1839. At that time Alexandria was a part of the District of Columbia. When Alexandria was retroceded to the State of Virginia, Potomac Lodge received a new charter on October 1, 1846, from the Grand Lodge of Virginia. The lodge is composed of some of our best citizens and has on its roll now 170 members. They have expended in this community alone, in a quiet way, more than fifty thousand dollars for the relief of its members in their struggles incident to human life and for public charities. All the Odd Fellows in the city will observe the anniversary of the institution of Odd Fellowship in the United States by attending service in Grace Episcopal Church on Sunday night, April 28.

The Alexandria Hospital.

The Board of Lady Managers thank the friends of Alexandria Hospital for their continued interest in the institution and acknowledge the following contributions:

Dodge, battery for use of wards; Miss Anna Roberts and Mrs. Julian Burke, old linen; Woodlawn Circle, Kings daugthers 24½ quarts of fruit; L. Shuman & Son, 1 gallon of ice cream weekly; Mrs. Bloch, dessert once weekly; Corby's bakery, donation of bread weekly; 1 quart milk daily from Mr. Charles Hooff, Mr. Louis Hooff and Mrs. W. B. Smoot; Mr. Oscar Baggett, meats; the Mutual Ice Company, mico water daily; friends who send books and magazines daily and weekly. We are deeply grateful for the telephone service of both companies; also for gas and electric light. The work is steadily increasing and we hope for the contined interest and help of our fellow-workers.

Case Continued.

James Mudd, who was arrested by Officers Bettis, Roberts, and Young last night, was arraigned in the Police Court this morning on suspicion of having stolen a watch from D. S. Dodd, a railway switchman. Dodd alleged that Mudd wore a mustache yesterday morning while they were drinking together, but he was smooth shaven when he was placed under arrest. The watch was not found on Mudd, but the police discovered in one of his pockets the sum of $2. Mudd was arraigned in the Police Court this morning, and the case continued.

Later in the day Mudd acknowledged that he obtained possession of the watch and pawned it in Washington for $4. Officer Young proceeded to Washington this afternoon for the purpose of secuing the timepiece, which is valued at $35.

Police Court.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

A white man, arrested by Officer Beach for being drunk in the street, forfeited his collateral by failing to appear.

James Self, arrested by Officers Bettis and Roberts charged with an assault on Charles Smith with a knife, was fined $10.

Allen Carter, colored, arrested by Officer Henderson charged with assaulting and beating Lou Gathright, was dismissed.

George Jones, colored, arrested by Officers Smith and Nicholson for disorderly conduct, was fined $5.

Lemuel Clark, colored, charged with disorderly conduct and gambling, was fined $5.

A colored woman named Nesbit, charged with leaving a nuisance upon premises she had recently occupied, was dismissed upon a promise to abate the same.

Congressional Committee.

A meeting of the Eighth district democratic congressional committee will be held at Manassas at 2 o'clock on Saturday evening next to fix a time for holding a primary to nominate a candidate for Congress for this district. At the meeting the vacancy on the committee caused by the death of Judge McCabe, of Loudoun county, will also be filled. Mr. G. L. Boothe is the member from this city. It is understood that Mr. Lixey will have no opposition and should this be the case, the committee, after the expiration of the time fixed for holding the primary expires, will have power to name him as the nominee, which will doubtless be done.

Discharged Pistol in the Street.

Early last night a pistol shot was heard on Fairfax street, between King and Cameron. There were three men on the square at the time, and Officers Henderson and Roberts started after them. One of the trio disappeared in Fayette alley, but the officers captured the others, and upon their refusal to tell who discharged the pistol, locked them up. They subsequently told the officers that Benjamin Simpson discharged the weapon. The prisoners gave their names as R. A. Butler and J. L. Johnson. They were released, but the officers failed to find Simpson.

A. O. H.

The Ladies Auxiliary to A. O. H., Division No. 1, delightfully entertained the members of the A. O. H., and their friends Sunday night in honor of the feast of St. Patrick, patron of the Hibernian order. Music and Irish melodies were well rendered and Mr. Jno. D. Normoyle spoke beautifully of the life of St. Patrick. Refreshments were served and all present spent an enjoyable evening and hoped the ladies would soon again hold another social session, which is one of the pleasant features of this organization.

Fifty-ninth Congress.

Washington, March 21.

SENATE.

The Senate took up the railroad rate regulation discussion almost immediately after meeting today.

Mr. Culberson introduced an amendment which he will offer to the railway rate bill prohibiting any corporation, joint stock company, or other association engaged in foreign or interstate commerce, from directly or indirectly contributing or promising to contribute money, stocks, bonds, transportation, or other thing of value to any committee of any political party for the purpose of influencing the result of any political campaign or to any person or organization for the purpose of influencing legislation before Congress or any of its committees. Violation is made a misdemeanor. Guilty corporations may be fined from $1,000 to $10,000. Individuals may be fined from $500 to $5,000, and imprisoned for from six months to two years.

Mr. Bailey then took the floor to take issue with Senator Dolliver, for what the Texas Senator declared was a violation of confidence.

HOUSE.

The fight in the House over the reference to the conference of the statehood bill was postponed one day in consequence of the death of Representative George R. Patterson, of Ashland, Pa. The House adjourned immediately in his honor at noon today.

Resolutions offered by Mr. Samuel, republican, of Pennsylvania, expressing the profound sorrow of the House, were adopted.

Speaker Cannon then designated the following members to attend the funeral as representatives of the House:

Messrs. Samuel, Dale, Lilly, Schneidel, Butler and Kline, of Pennsylvania; Foster, of Vermont; Loudenslager, of New Jersey; Prince, of Illinois; Patterson, of North Carolina; Brousard, of Louisiana; Goulden, of New York; Aiken, of South Carolina, and Andrews, of New Mexico.

As a further mark of respect, the House then adjourned.

Representative Jim Watson, of Indiana, the republican whip, has informed the members that the fight to sent the amended statehood bill to conference, scheduled for today, will come up tomorrow.

The House committee on naval affairs favorably reported the anti-hazing bill framed by the subcommittee which made an investigation at the Naval Academy. The bill graduates the penalties for violation of the law, not only dismissal, but imprisonment being provided for midshipmen guilty of brutality. It also provides that naval officers at the academy shall be dismissed from the service for failure to promptly report violations of the anti-hazing law.

The rate bill was temporarily laid aside in the Senate yesterday on motion of Mr. Tillman. The session was devoted mainly to a discussion of the advisability of appropriating money for seacoast fortifications in the Philippines, which finally was decided in the negative by the appropriation for that purpose being stricken from the bill on motion of Mr. Teller. The pension appropriation bill, carrying $140,000,000, was passed without discussion.

The House devoted all of yesterday to the consideration of less than twenty-five of the 163 pages of the legislative bill, debate proceeding under the five-minute rule.

Defect in Bill.

Since the legislature passed the bill providing for the annexation of Manchester to Richmond, it is asserted by many lawyers that the new law, in the event Gov. Swanson signs the measure, will permit every criminal charged with a felony, even murder, to escape scot-free, and that the new measure will also permit the trial of civil suits before police justices, which will do away with the present courts and make several new police justices necessary under the following clause:

"All cases, civil and criminal, which arise within the former territory of either of the said cities shall, upon motion of the accused, or of the defendant, be certified for trial to the police justice whose court is held within the territory within which such case arose."

With such a law, the jurists say, any one charged with murder can select the police magistrate he wishes to try the case. As a matter of fact, no police justice has jurisdiction over felony charges. The result would be to turn loose all criminals in Richmond.

Suffering from Cancer.

Confirmation was obtained yesterday in New York of statements that William Rockefeller, brother of John D. Rockefeller, is suffering from cancer, but not of the virulent type reported. It was learned that Mr. Rockefeller was advised by his physicians last fall to go abroad, because of a cancerous growth at the base of the tongue, which for the past two or three years has been causing more or less trouble. The recent reports of his illness are attributed to a probable renewal of the symptoms previously displayed. In quarters usually well-informed as to the interests of Mr. Rockefeller, no alarm was expressed over the reports of his illness. It was intimated in view of the pending Standard Oil investigations, it was thought best for Mr. Rockefeller in his present condition to spend the winter in Italy. No confirmation could be had of the report that Mr. Rockefeller's trouble had developed into cancer of the stomach.

Everybody's Magazine for April, which has been received from its publishers in New York, is of interest from cover to cover. The first of two articles on "The Coal Trust, the Labor Trust, and the People who Pay," tells the whole story of the coal trust, its origin, history and present power. In contrast to this story of greed and violence is the peaceful picture of Switzerland, the trustless country, in the current installment of "Soldiers of the Common Good." Thomas Lawson contributes "The Fight for the Big Three," and Eugene Wood a suggestive report of two recent religious conferences entitled "The Gathering of the Churches." Other articles of interest, exceptionally good fiction, poems and reviews of books, etc., complete this issue.

The University.

President E. A. Alderman left Charlottesville on March 13th for a trip to the Pacific coast. He will make addresses at the following places: Tulane University, New Orleans; University of California, Berkeley (Charter Day Address); Leland Stanford Jr University, Palo Alto; Virginia Alumni Association, San Francisco; Virginia Alumni Association, Denver. He will also visit the alumni at Ogden, Salt Lake City and Omaha. Pres't. Alderman will return to the University in time for the Founder's Day exercises, April 19

Announcement has recently been made of a gift of $50,000, for the completion of the University hospital, from Mr. Charles Steele, of New York, an alumnus of the University. Miss Helen Gould has lately given $5,000 for equipping a negro ward in the hospital.

On March 8th, Prof. W. H. Heck, of the Curry School of Education, delivered his inaugural address, on the question "What is Education?"

Arrangements are being made to increase the attendance this session at the final exercises by having class reunions of the alumni, and class day exercises for the graduates of 1906.

The University catalogue for 1906-7 will soon be published and will be mailed to any address sent to the Secretary of the University. It is generally believed that the reduction of fees in the academic department from $40 to $10 will greatly increase the number of Virginia students at the University next session. With no tuition and only $10 fee, the Virginia student at the University will be able to get a college and a postgraduate education at almost living cost.

Suit for Millions.

James W. Friend, who, it was reported, lost $800,000 to Mrs. Cassie Chadwick on her green goods securities, and Frank N. Hoffstot, his business associate, are made defendants in a sensational suit in Pittsburg, involving $3,833,000 worth of securities and real estate valued at about $250,000.

It is alleged by the Colonial Trust Company, the Mercantile Trust Company, and Mrs. James C. Jutte, administrators of the estate of the late W. C. Jutte, millionaire Pittsburg coal operator, who died suddenly at Atlantic City last summer, that the latter, while a mental wreck, gave over the securities for a loan of $200,000 besides paying $6,000 commission for getting the loan. The properties have an actual value of about $1,000,000. The complainants allege that the business transactions were entered into as the result of a conspiracy on the part of Friend and Hoffstot to defraud Jutte of his property, knowing at the time that he was incapable of transacting business and that he had been mentally unsound for a long time prior to entering into the negotiations.

Traveled 150,000 miles on $1.50.

After an absence of three years, spent in traveling around the world as a stowaway, Herman Kraft arrived at New York yesterday on the Cunard liner Umbria. He left New York on the Hamburg liner Cecilia three years ago and went to Odessa. Since that time, according to his own story, the boy has traveled about 150,000 miles. The boy's father lives in Hoboken, where he was sent in charge of the master-at-arms of the Umbria.

When the boy was asked why he had returned to the United States, he said: "Well, I have seen about all of the world that is worth anything, and I got home sick. While I was in Australia I fell in with a band of bushwackers, who wanted me to join their band, and I just escaped with my life. After this I thought that home was good enough for me, and I left Sydney on the bark Estley, that sailed between Liverpool and Sydney. When I arrived in Liverpool I went without food for three days before I had a chance to slip aboard the Umbria." Kraft said that he was fifteen when he sailed from home the first time, and had only $4 to start with, and that during the entire trip he had spent only $1.50 in car fare.

The Breath of Life.

It's a significant fact that the strongest animal of its size, the gorilla, also has the largest lungs. Powerful lungs means powerful creatures. How to keep the breathing organs right should be man's chiefest study. Like thousands of others, Mrs. Ora A. Stephens, of Port Williams, O., has learned how to do this. She writes: "Three bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery stopped my cough of two years and cured me of what my friends thought consumption. Oh, it's grand for throat and lung troubles." Guaranteed by F. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

The best safeguard against headaches, constipation and liver troubles is DeWitt's Little Early Risers. They don't gripe. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co., 401 King street.

A Chicago Alderman Owes His Election to Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

"I can heartily and conscientiously recommend Chamberlain Cough Remedy for affections of the throat and lungs," says Hon. John Shanick, 220 So. Peoria St., Chicago. "Two years ago during a political campaign, I caught cold after being overheated, which irritated my throat and I was finally compelled to stop, as I could not speak aloud. In my extremity a friend advised me to use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I took two doses that afternoon and could not believe my senses when I found the next morning the inflammation had largely subsided. I took several does that day, kept right on talking through the campaign, and I thank this medicine that I won my seat in the Council." This remedy is for sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

Quick changes from hot to cold and back again try strong constitutions and cause, among other evils nasal catarrh, a troublesome and offensive disease. Sneezing and snuffling, coughing and difficult breathing, and the drip, drip of the foul discharge into the throat—all are ended by Ely's Cream Balm. This honest and positive remedy contains no cocaine, mercury, nor other harmful ingredient. The worst cases are cured in a short time. All druggists, 50c, or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren street, New York.
